By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow and cold, packing the punch of a midwinter storm, held an icy grip on wide areas from the Northern Plains into the Midwest today.

Unseasonable low temperatures were reported across much of the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

Heaviest snow and the coldest air covered much of Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wyoming, Kansas and Iowa. Temperatures dropped to as low as 17 below zero in Lewistown, Mont., and in Butte, hit by nearly a foot of snow, it was -12.

Below-zero readings were general in other parts of the snow belt. Snow depths ranged up to 15 inches in parts of Montana and ranged from 6 to 12 inches in most other areas as well as in the Great Lakes region and parts of the Northeast. The stormy-cold weather was blamed for at least 16 deaths on snow-covered highways.

Snow diminished in many areas and winds tapered off during the night. However, Weather Bureau forecasters said no immediate general break in the cold weather appeared likely. The cold air headed eastward and lower temperatures were forecast in many areas, including the Southeast. Central Texas had temperatures in the lower 40s and upper 30s.

Rain fell across broad sections in the south central and southeast parts of the country, extending from southern Texas eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Generally fair weather prevailed in the far Southwest and the Pacific Coast states with temperatures near seasonal levels.

Negro Again Convicted of Murder

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Edward Walton Jr., 32, a Negro of Ashdown, was convicted Thursday for the third time on the same murder charge, but escaped the death penalty leveled against him in his first two convictions.

He was found guilty of the shooting of Roy Hallman, 61, a nightwatchman at an Ashdown service station, June 20, 1959.

Walton's previous convictions were at Ashdown. He has spent the last four years in death row at Tucker State Prison Farm.

Both previous convictions were overturned by higher courts.

A change of venue for the third trial was granted after his attorney said Walton could not get a fair trial in Ashdown.

The jury deliberated two and one-half hours. It fixed the punishment at life in prison and recommended that Walton never be pardoned or paroled.

Formal sentencing was set for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

There was no indication that the sentence would be appealed.

Walton never took the stand. The defense never contended that Walton did not kill Hallman. Defense witnesses testified that Walton was "staggering drunk" the day before the slaying.

Walton was arrested at Texarkana the day after the murder when he tried to sell a blood-stained pistol to a liquor store operator.

Some Dogs Just Not Tough Guys

BOSTON (AP)—Some dogs, like some people, just aren't cut out to be tough guys.

That's the trouble with Anka, a German shepherd hired by the Boston police department to help hunt lawbreakers.

Anka, 3 years old, likes people and snuggles up for petting when she's supposed to frighten criminals with snarls and growls.

Deputy Supt. William A. Bradley ordered her dismissal because she's too docile.

City officials now have to decide whether to sell Anka or destroy her.

FBI Jails Cosa Nostra Boss of Philadelphia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The reputed Philadelphia boss of the nationwide crime syndicate known as Cosa Nostra was arrested today by the FBI.

Agents seized Angelo Bruno, 53, from a Pan American World Airways plane moments after it touched down at Boston's Logan International Airport at 12:35 p.m. (EST).

Bruno left Italy Thursday night. He has lived there since September, shortly before he was indicted by a grand jury for conspiring to violate a federal law prohibiting interstate travel to commit extortion.

That indictment was handed down in Philadelphia Oct. 31. Bruno, it was learned, has been consistently harassed by Italian police cooperating with U.S. authorities since he went to that country.

Race Workers Convicted at Helena

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Two Negro field secretaries for the anti-segregation Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee were convicted of conspiring to create a breach of the peace today.

Municipal Court Judge D. S. Heslop sentenced them to 30 days in jail and fined each of them $500.

They are John Bradford, 22, of Mound Bayou, Miss., and Bruce Jordan, 19, of Pine Bluff.

An SNCC spokesman said Bradford and Jordan had gone to Helena to establish a voter registration drive. They were arrested last Friday.

The Rev. Raymond Lyles, Negro pastor of the Pettis Memorial C.M.E. Church in West Helena, where the men were arrested, also was arrested but was released Saturday without being charged.

Appeal bond for Bradford and Jordan was set at $1,500 each.

They were among 32 Negroes and one white man arrested Nov. 16 in connection with sit-in demonstrations at a Helena drug store and cafeteria. They were given fines, suspended jail terms and some were placed on probation.

Editor's Note James Bacon, AP movie-television writer, an old friend of the Sinatra family, covered the kidnaping of Frank Sinatra Jr., on both the Nevada and California fronts. Here is chronology of the events that spelled 54 hours of terror for a family. Some of it is news that didn't get printed—because the life of a young boy was at stake.

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The knock on the door and the familiar shout "room service" didn't alarm Frank Sinatra Jr., last Sunday night in his Lake Tahoe motel room.

Sinatra, 19-year-old son of one of show business' biggest stars, had just finished dining in the room with Joe Foss. Foss was substitute trumpeter in the revamped Tommy Dorsey band playing across the parking lot at Harrah's Club.

Young Sinatra was singer with the band, a band which used the same book and the same song arrangements that had catapulted Frank Sr., to fame.

As young Sinatra walked to open the door, he presumably thought a waiter wanted to cart away the dirty dinner dishes.

The time was 9:30 p.m.—almost showtime for the young singer. But when Frankie opened the door, instead of a waiter sauntering in, two burly men, fairly young, burst in and one flashed a gun.

Thus began 54 hours of terror for young Sinatra and his family—the first Hollywood kidnaping in history.

The kidnaping has many complexities. It started with a complex. Why was Foss, a witness who could identify the unmasked abductors, left behind bound only with tape?

It took Foss less than 10 minutes to loose himself and get Gene Evans, the hotel's press agent, on the phone. Evans called police and minutes after the kidnaping police had been alerted.

Lake Tahoe is some 6,000 feet up in the snowy High Sierra. In winter it's difficult, sometimes impossible, to get into or out of the area. Roads are few.

Last Sunday night a blinding snowstorm blocked any getaway down the 65 miles of treacherous mountain road to Reno. The only chance of getaway, presumably, was down the wide, and usually clear, U.S. 50 to Sacramento and then down busy U.S. 99 into Los Angeles.

Apparently that is the route the abductors took because young Sinatra was released early Wednesday morning only two miles from his mother's Bel-Air home.

It cost his famous father $240,000 in ransom but as Frank Sr., commented:

"I was delighted to pay it to get our boy back unharmed."

Sinatra, notified in Palm Springs, was in Reno Airport by 2:30 a.m. Monday morning.

Owner Charlie Mape of the Mape Hotel put his private suite at Sinatra's disposal.

Since the state-straddling locale of the kidnaping was unique, the FBI waived its usual 24-hour assumption that the abductors had crossed a state line.

By Monday dawn, some 26 federal agents were at Stateline, Nev., and almost that many were in and out of Sinatra's room Monday.

Among the first calls received by Sinatra came from U.S. Attorney-General Robert Kennedy, the nation's chief law enforcement officer. The FBI is under the jurisdiction of the Justice Department.

Sinatra, used to giving orders, said he behaved like a good soldier.

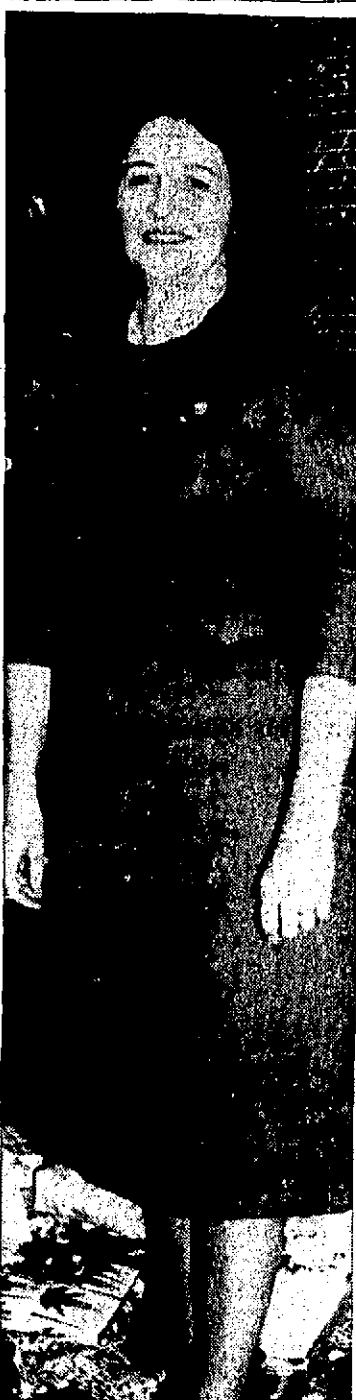

"I did everything they told me to," he said. "I can't praise

Cheers, Irate Protests Greet Base Closings

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A few cheers sounded among an angry chorus of congressional jeers in the wake of a Pentagon announcement that 26 domestic military facilities will be shut down or reduced.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he expects no efforts at congressional retaliation against Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who spelled out Thursday details of the defense cutbacks in 14 states. Seven foreign bases also will be closed down, bringing the total to 33.

Irate protests from House members and senators whose areas face a loss of payrolls from 8,500 civilian jobs "are understandable," Mansfield said in an interview.

But, he added, "I am sure that the Department of Defense is acting in the best interests of the nation." And, he recalled, Congress itself has been urging economy in the multibillion-dollar defense outlays "wherever possible without decreasing our effective defense posture."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who steers both defense legislation and huge annual money bills through the Senate, said the cutbacks had caused "a terrific reaction."

Russell had no immediate plans for protest hearings by either the Senate Armed Services or Defense Appropriations committees he heads, but said they may be necessary later.

"I'm highly in favor of this (the reductions)," Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in a separate interview. "I think that President Johnson should be congratulated for economy action so promptly and decisively."

Fulbright said it is "humanity's gain that such a fine and decent man should have passed through our midst."

McClellan said, "The fact that John Kennedy had so much to live for makes his loss even harder to bear."

McClellan formerly served with Kennedy on the Senate labor rackets committee.

State Might Escape Icy Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas may escape the current cold snap without icy roads, the U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock indicated today.

A light rain moved northward into south Arkansas this morning and was to spread over most of the southern portion of the state later in the day, but the Weather Bureau said it would be of little consequence.

The chance of snow flurries this weekend still exists and the cold weather is expected to remain through the first part of next week.

The forecast calls for partly cloudy to cloudy and cold through Saturday with highs near 30 north to 40 south-east and lows tonight near 15 north to 25 southeast.

Beaver was among the coldest spots in the state this morning, with a 16. Mountain Home recorded 18 degrees. Gilbert and Fayetteville 19. Highs Thursday were in the 30s over the entire state.

The five-day outlook through next Wednesday calls for temperatures to average about 10 degrees below normal. Rain will total 1/2 to 1 inch in North Arkansas and over 1/2 inch in South Arkansas, with a possibility of snow in the southern half Sunday or Monday.

Argentina Wants to Get Juan Peon

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MADRID (AP)—The Argentine government has asked Spain to extradite Juan D. Peron to face a 7 1/2-year-old charge of seducing the janitor's teenage daughter who solicited his last two years as Argentina's dictator.

The 68-year-old former strongman, who recently moved into a luxurious Madrid residence with the former secretary he married after his overthrow in September 1955, was not available for comment. But a member of his staff said:

"This is an old matter which has been brought up from time to time. It is absurd."

Argentine Ambassador Gen. Julio A. Lagos delivered the extradition petition to the Spanish Foreign Ministry Thursday.

A ministry source said the petition would be referred first to the Justice Ministry and then to a Spanish judge for recommendations, then Generalissimo Franco's Cabinet will make the final decision.

Spanish Foreign Office sources said there was no necessity to detain Peron in the meantime.

In July 1956, the military government which took over after Peron's overthrow charged Peron with statutory rape based on his relationship with Nelida (Nelly) Rivas. She had become his mistress in 1953, when she was 14, a few months after the death of his politically powerful wife Evita.

Peron has been living in Spain since 1960. He still has a large following in Argentina, particularly among the laboring class.

Senate Passes Controversial Fgn. Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the White House today a controversial $3,599,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill slashed more than $930 million below administration requests.

The action came after Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., leading the fight against it, called the bill "a monstrosity" and "shocking, inexcusable." It was a compromise between Senate and House versions.

Morse was joined in the attack by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. who protested the elimination, in a Senate-House conference, of restrictions the Senate had written into the measure.

Ellender said Senate conferees, headed by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, "simply bowed down to the House managers and struck out every amendment of consequence."

Shortly before the Senate acted, a House subcommittee recommended appropriation of approximately $3 billion—around $600 million less than the authorization—to finance the program.

8 Americans Die in Viet Nam Crash

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Eight U.S. servicemen were presumed killed Thursday in the separate crash of a big helicopter and an Army plane.

The twin-engine H37 helicopter plunged out of control and crashed in the guerrilla-infested Mekong Delta while carrying of another plane in a sling. It was not certain yet whether Communist gunfire or engine trouble dived the helicopter.

Five Americans were aboard. Rescuers recovered three bodies and a fourth was believed buried in the wreckage in Kien Phong province, 60 miles southwest of Saigon.

One crewman survived. He was brought to Saigon in serious condition, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Several hours later a single-engine Otter plane carrying four U.S. military advisers and three Vietnamese crashed in the central highlands on a flight from Nha Trang to Ban Me Thuot. There apparently were no survivors, a spokesman said.

The plane had failed to make radio contact shortly after taking off. There was no explanation immediately for the crash.

No names of victims were announced.

The helicopter was one of five H37s in Viet Nam used to recover crashed planes and helicopters. It was the first of its kind to crash here.

It was lifting the wreckage of a plane that crashed Wednesday after engine trouble. The American pilot and Vietnamese observer had bailed out safely.

them highly enough."

One FBI official explained: "Our paramount interest is the return of the victim unharmed, then we move into the apprehension aspects of a case."

Sinatra, sleepless, worried and fearful, sat all day Monday by the telephone—one of several in the room. He sometimes used another phone to call his long-divorced wife, Nancy, in Los Angeles.

Frank Jr. was just a small boy when Sinatra and Nancy were divorced but the father remained close to her and the three children.

At 4:45 p.m., Monday, the first call came. The kidnappers told Frank that the boy was safe.

"They sounded like they meant business," said Sinatra.

The same man called again at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Sinatra had not slept all night, except for an occasional doze of a few minutes in the chair.

Sinatra was allowed to talk to his son.

"They wouldn't let me talk to him long. I asked him if he was comfortable and he said he was OK."

Another call at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday set off the routine for the ransom payoff.

Sinatra was told to go to Ron's Service Station in Carson City, across the street from the State Capitol Building.

Before Sinatra got there, the attendant took four calls all asking for Sinatra. He thought it was a gag—until Sinatra walked in.

The next call came while Sinatra was there. Sinatra, with an FBI agent, then drove eight blocks to another service station. Another call was made there by the abductor.

Sinatra and the FBI agent went to the FBI office in Reno where the singer conferred with Dean Elson, agent in charge for Nevada.

At 6 p.m., a chartered flight carrying Sinatra and FBI agents left Reno Airport for Los Angeles.

So secret was the departure that a newsman staked out at the airport didn't see the plane depart. And the airport is a small one.

Newsman were told that Sinatra went to Los Angeles to comfort his distraught ex-wife—and that he would return Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

As it turned out, Sinatra went to his wife's house to get two more calls from the kidnappers. These calls arranged for the dropoff of the $240,000 in small notes at a spot near the Veterans' Administration Hospital in West Los Angeles.

Sinatra earlier had called on friends to round up the bills in small denominations.

The tycoon singer grosses millions a year. His credit is good.

Sinatra is at a loss to explain how the unusual figure of $240,000 was arrived at.

An FBI man left the money at the spot and Sinatra went back to his former wife's home to await word of his son's release.

At 2 a.m., Wednesday, Sinatra got a call that his son had been dropped off at Mulholland Drive and the San Diego Freeway.

Sinatra and three other men drove off but returned 40 minutes later grim-faced. They couldn't find the boy.

At 2:55 a.m., Bel-Air private patrolman George C. Jones, driving his usual route down Roscomare Road, heard a shout: "Hey!"

He recognized young Sinatra walking down the middle of the road with a blindfold still dangling around his neck.

Young Sinatra had walked the two miles from where he had been dropped off. He said he had been hiding behind bushes whenever he saw a car come by.

"I was afraid those kidnappers were still cruising around looking for me," he said. "I talked the guy who was holding me into letting me loose. I had been working on him ever since the other guys went to make the ransom pickup."

The patrolman thought young Frank should see his parents before the army of newsmen and cameramen outside the Sinatra home saw him, so he hid the youngster in the trunk of his squad car and drove him into Nancy's driveway undetected.

Then, as his mother and father and younger sister Tina joyfully hugged him, young Sinatra grabbed his father's arm and said: "I'm sorry, dad."

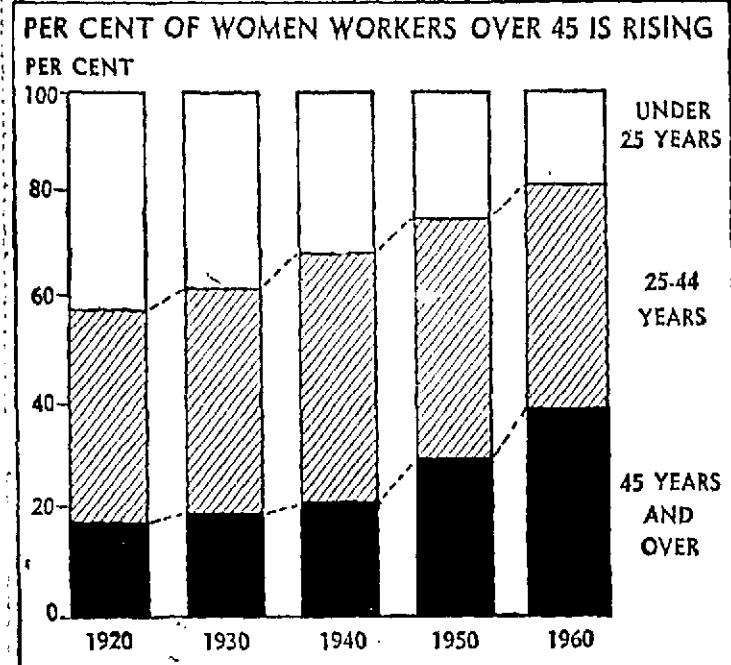

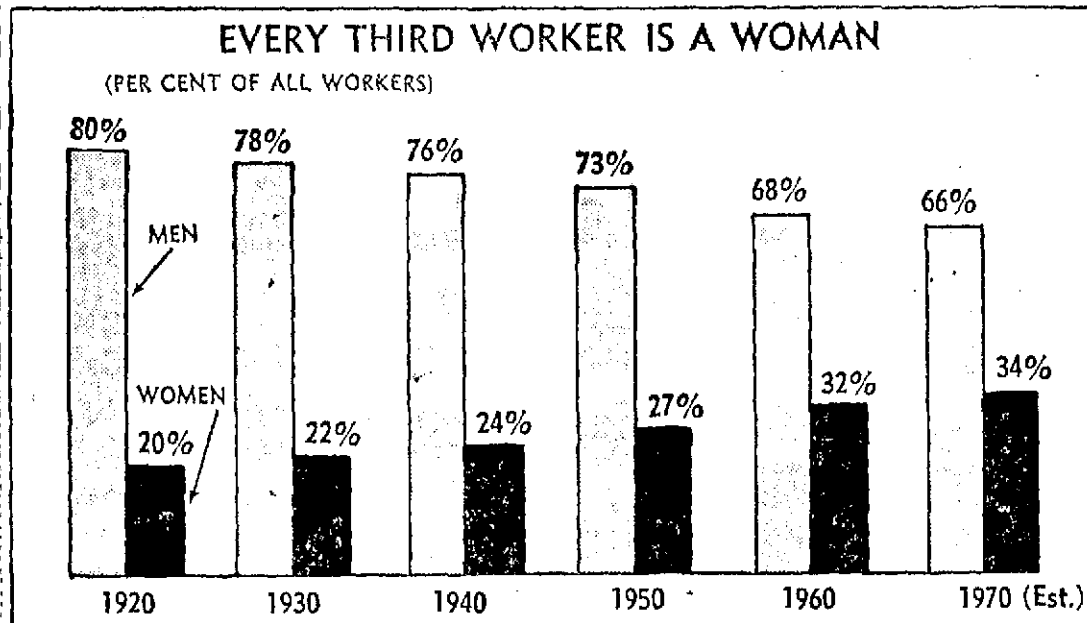

Replied Frank: "Who's sorry? We're delighted you're back safe. That's all that counts. You're alive."

Dozen FBI Men Search Calif. Valley

By JAMES BACON
A.P. Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The FBI dispatched a dozen men to the San Fernando Valley north of Hollywood during the night, arousing speculation that agents might be on the trail of suspects in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnapping case.

The FBI acknowledged it had men in the area but wouldn't say what they were doing.

Newsman learned through police that several residents of the area telephoned the West Valley Police Station, saying men believed to be FBI agents were checking houses on one street and stopping cars at intersections in the same neighborhood.

Officer Gene Radomski of the West Valley division of the Los Angeles police department said it was "strictly an FBI operation." He said police hadn't been told the nature of the FBI activity but assumed it was connected with the Sinatra case.

Wednesday, after Sinatra Jr. was returned to his family for $240,000 ransom, Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker complained his department was left completely in the dark on developments in the case.

"This is the first time in my memory that we have been faced with probable criminal activity in the city of Los Angeles and have been unable to (respond)," Parker said at a news conference. "We have always worked as a team with law enforcement agencies."

Parker said he didn't want to interfere with the FBI. "I'm sure they had adequate reason for not bringing us in," he said. "I am just pointing out our position. I am concerned with the criticism we may ultimately receive in a case which we have been deprived of any opportunity to solve."

Sinatra Jr., a slender, 19-year-old who has followed his father's footsteps by undertaking a singing career, was abducted by two armed men Sunday night from his motel room at a Lake Tahoe resort on the California-Nevada border. He had a singing engagement at a casino there.

Fifty-four hours later, after his father arranged to have $240,000 planted at a pickup point in West Los Angeles, Sinatra Jr. was released on a free-way about two miles from his mother's home in the Bel-Air section of Los Angeles.

The youth told newsmen later he was kept blindfolded during his captivity but "wasn't harmed at all."

He said he cannot discuss details of the abduction until the FBI finishes questioning him.

Moments later the house was destroyed. So were the Brewers' car and truck parked nearby.

The Brewers walked almost a mile, barefoot and in their nightclothes, to the home of a neighbor.

They were staying with relatives today and Radio Station KVEE in Conway was broadcasting an appeal for clothing, furniture and any other aid.

"We're just lucky to be here this morning," Brewer said. He said he didn't know how the fire started. The family lived six miles south of Conway.

Job Training Plan Passed by House

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to expand the nation's vocational training program and to refashion it along lines appropriate to a changing economy.

The third breakthrough in education legislation this year, the measure won 300-65 approval Thursday night after a Republican-backed trimming action was scuttled 193 to 180.

The next move is up to the Senate, which may take up the major education bill today.

Three education programs would receive a $1.56 billion infusion if the authorization is matched in subsequent appropriations measures.

Federal support for vocational education, now about $57 million a year, would be hiked to $731 million over a four-year period.

Aid to schools in impacted areas — those overloaded with children of government employees — would total $527 million after two years.

And the 1958 National Defense Education Act would be extended until July 1965 at a cost of $304 million. Funds for the college student loan program would be increased in two stages from $90 million to $135 million.

The major attention was focused on the vocational education program.

At present this training is limited largely to home economics and farm operations.

The new bill calls for the construction of five residential schools to provide supervision and job-training for school dropouts and youngsters living in undesirable environments.

Helen Kane Trying for a Comeback

By JOHN MORGENTHAUER

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember when Helen Kane sang boop-boop-a-doop back in 1928?

Well, the onetime voice of Betty Boop in the movie cartoons is living in an apartment in the Jackson Heights section of New York City now, hoping for a comeback.

"I feel fine now, thank you," said Miss Kane, who has had four operations for cancer in the past seven years, the last one Dec. 6.

She says she's finishing a book about her career, wants to do some television, and has had some offers for a movie about her life.

She still speaks in that piping voice that sounds as if she's suppressing a laugh.

Miss Kane, who made 14 movies for Paramount, saw one of them on television not long ago.

"I was the peppy one, I was the flapper," she said. "There I was, looking about 16, laughing, and jumping on and off horses."

Her last movie was "Heads Up," with Buddy Rogers in 1932.

Miss Kane's first big success was with Paul Ash, an orchestra leader, at New York's Paramount Theater in 1928. She'd already done dramatic stock, appeared in night clubs with the four Marx brothers and in Schubert revues.

After 10 auditions for Ash, they let her sing one song in the show.

"Then they put in more songs. After the fourth day they put voking talk.

Mary, Martha Class Hold Family Supper

Pine cones and boughs with red candles decorated the tables where 50 enjoyed a family potluck supper at the Mary and Martha Class party in the First Methodist Church on Thursday, December 12. Large toy animals and other festive decorations were seen at other points in the room.

After a delicious meal, the group heard Mrs. Raymond Franks tell the beautiful Christmas story, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," adapted from the opera of the same name by Menotti. The group also joined in singing several Christmas carols with Mrs. Jim Robertson, accompanist.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. C. Howell, Mrs. Jim Robertson, Miss Troy Hammons, Mrs. Forrest Hutson, Mrs. Jerry Johnson, Mrs. Mitch LaGrone, Mrs. Dick Lauterbach, and Miss Mary Anita Laseter.

Coming and Going

Mrs. R. D. Sard, Urbana, Ill., was here last week to see her mother, Mrs. Helen R. Marshall, who has been a hospital patient the past month. Mrs. Sard will return next week and Mrs. Marshall plans to spend Christmas in Illinois with her.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brannan, Jr. have returned to their home in Shreveport after spending a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brannan.

MARRIAGE

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Believe it or not at 59, I have fallen madly in love with a man of 65. We both own our own homes enjoy good incomes and are young at heart. Since we met life has taken on a new meaning for us. Before having lost our respective mates, we were both very lonely.

After reading this you may well ask what is the problem. It's my children. They disapprove of me marrying at my age and are frank to say they do not go along with my taste in men. They think I should marry one of our own faith.

The man I love is perfectly willing for me to continue in my faith in fact he is tolerant in all things, even about my children's attitude. What would you advise me to do, listen to them and be condemned to a lonely existence or follow my heart and live my own life?—Bewildered

Dear Bewildered: At 59, you are certainly entitled to live your own life, seek happiness, and even make your own mistakes. Children often complain about their parents, sometimes justifiably, but it's rare for parents openly to find fault with their grown children. And yet supposedly adult children can be very cruel. Yours may be jealous.

Regardless of their chronological age, they are still mature and show it by not crediting you with much intelligence and at the same time selfishly trying to impose their prejudices on you. The tolerance of the man you love must be a welcome contrast to their intolerance.

You still have a good life span ahead, so why shouldn't you enjoy it? Since you do not intend to give up your faith this should not be made into a stumbling block.

Being a conscientious, mature woman you would naturally like to have support and approval from your children. Once you're married they will see for themselves how groundless their objections were. But don't try to force a change in their attitude now. Tell them how much you regret their lack of understanding and how much you hope it will soon be replaced by the love you'll always feel for them.

Dear Helen: The mother of my daughter's fiancé gave her a dress for her birthday. Now the fiancé has given her another dress. She has plenty of nice clothes and, though moderately fixed, we can still afford to buy them. Instead of dresses I feel that something for her trousseau or future home would be in far better taste and certainly more appreciated. Am I wrong? —Uncertain

Dear Uncertain: You're quite right. But don't make a mountain out of a molehill by interfering. In other words, don't act like a mother-in-law at least until you are one.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

my name in lights. I used to sit in a coffee shop across the street and look at it."

Miss Kane has been married for 35 years to Dan Healy, who was her leading man in "Good Boy," the show in which she sang "I Want to be Loved by You" (boop-boop-a-doop).

"He's a very talented young man," said Miss Kane, and added:

"I'm not near that age. Don't put down any fancy age for me. It's not that long ago."

Californian to Defend Jack Ruby

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

DALLAS (AP) — A Californian considered one of the nation's foremost trial lawyers will head the defense staff at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, who killed the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

The lawyer, Melvin Belli (pronounced bell-eye) of Los Angeles and San Francisco, said Tuesday night he was undertaking Ruby's defense "and I'm going to lead on it."

Belli, author of 28 law books and a past president of the American Academy of Trial Lawyers said Ruby 52 will plead innocent by reason of insanity.

Asked if he believed Ruby could receive a fair trial in Dallas Belli said: "There is no assumption that he can not." He added there was no plan at present to ask a change of venue.

Ruby's trial for murder in the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald 24, the accused assassin, is set for Feb. 3 before Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas.

Brown said three national networks or their affiliates have asked to televise the trial.

"I've done a lot of thinking and praying about it," he said, "but I don't know about it yet."

The 55-year-old jurist a bulky man with graying, wavy brown hair, predicted he will be criticized widely regardless of what he decides about television.

Ruby shot Oswald before a nationwide TV audience Nov. 24 as he was being transferred from Dallas' City Hall to the county jail.

Belli said he did not believe Ruby "was just a publicity seeker" and he was convinced Ruby had no association with Oswald or any conspiracy. After talking to Ruby in his cell, Belli said: "He's sincere, disturbed and troubled."

In the lineup for Ruby's defense with Belli are Sam S. Brody, 37, a Los Angeles legal associate; Joe Tonahill, 55, Jasper, Tex., another associate; and Dallas lawyers Tom Howard and Jim Martin.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas has said he will ask the death penalty for Ruby.

Pork Being Featured at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork grabs the spotlight at many of the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

Heavy marketings have pushed down wholesale prices and this has sparked a rash of "specials."

In the New York area, one national chain offers pork loins at a range from 29 cents a pound for rib ends to 49 cents a pound for the loin half.

In Western markets, wholesale pork loin prices are off as much as three cents a pound.

Pork chops, butt roasts, sausage and bacon are other features.

Broiler-fryers are also widely featured this weekend, with one chain offering them at 25 to 29 cents a pound in the New York area.

Other main course attractions include beef, veal and lamb.

Beef prices continue to show the effect of big market movement, with chuck and round roasts among the main attractions. Steaks are also attractively priced in many markets.

Fresh vegetable offerings include cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, sweet potatoes, tomatoes and potatoes.

Fresh fruit attractions include avocados, apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges and pears.

Lions, Bears in Crucial Game Sunday

DETROIT (AP)—If the Chicago Bears erect a stone wall in Sunday's crucial game with the Detroit Lions, that'll be all right with Ernie Clark.

The Lions' rookie linebacker warms up for a game by ganging into concrete pillars.

"I've seen a lot of guys do weird things getting ready for a game, but never one like Ernie," said Detroit Coach George Wilson Thursday as the Lions drilled for the battle at Chicago's Wrigley Field.

A Detroit victory, coupled with a triumph by Green Bay Saturday, would give the Packers the National Football League's Western Division title over the Bears.

Clark, a 220-pounder who works out of the left linebacker position, is one of Detroit's newest defensive weapons. Assigned to the spot at mid-season, the former Michigan State player developed fast as a try-to-get-around-me pro type.

He has been particularly helpful since injuries sidetracked a number of the Lions' defensive standouts.

Someone told Wilson about Clark charging into the concrete pillars under Tiger Stadium. So the coach decided to watch him last Sunday.

"Coming out of the locker room, he stopped by one of those pillars and whumpf! he whacked it with his arm and shoulder," Wilson related. "Then whumpf! He hit it with the other. I hurt just to watch him."

A novel about BENEDICT ARNOLD by PHILIP VAIL
© 1963 by Philip Vail
A novel about BENEDICT ARNOLD
THE STORY: Benedict Arnold did not have a very happy youth in Connecticut. His father was an excessive drinker and Benedict's mother nagged him.

It was inevitable that a young man who had known and loved the sea from earliest childhood should try to make his fortune in the expanding West Indies trade.
Norwich grew too small for him, so he transferred his base of operations to New Haven. There he considered him one of the most promising members of the younger generation. He himself believed it, and his faith in his destiny never faltered. He prospered on the sea, bought a store in which to sell the goods he acquired in the West Indian trade and grew still wealthier.
In a few short years he became a man of substance, the owner of several vessels, the captain of his own flagship. He was a respected merchant who charged reasonable prices for his wares and, by 1766, many of his elders envied him.

Perhaps it was true that the meek would some day inherit the earth, but from what Benedict had seen, only the bold, the men of imagination and daring, accumulated property and standing. In the five years that had passed since he had moved to New Haven after his father's death, he had become one of the leading citizens of the city.
By investing most of his profits in new ships, he was now trading with the Canadian colonies and the West Indian Islands, with Spain and Portugal, and even with the Muslims of Algiers whose silver bangles were snatched from his shelves as rapidly as he could place them in stock.

Tipping his hat to acquaintances, bowing occasionally to a lady, he made his way to the seven-room house on Chapel Street. The front door was unlocked. He raised the latch, stepped inside and wiped his callous boots on a felt cloth. "I'm home, Hannah," he called. His sister appeared at the top of the stairs.
At 23 she was a demure beauty who looked no more than 16. Her long golden hair and innocent expression contributed to the illusion of extreme youth. The deep smudges beneath her eyes had vanished a few months after her father's death; her skin was now as clear and fresh as a child's.
Benedict was surprised to see that she was wearing a new gown of violet silk he had bought for her on his last voyage to Europe. "I hope you did not dress on my account," he said. "I told you this morning that I'm dining tonight at Sheriff Mansfield's house."
"You're paying court to his daughter and you know it!"
He felt the color rise in his face as he followed her. "You know nothing of such things!"
"Really, Benedict! Margaret

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Dr. Linus C. Pauling, America's 1962 Nobel Peace Prize winner, suggested Wednesday night that the United Nations share control of all nuclear weapons to decrease the possibility of war.

THE TWISTED SABER

Mansfield and I are friends." Hannah patted his arm. "She's a sweet girl and I approve."
His attitude changing, he peered at her intently. "Does Margaret approve of me, too?"
She glanced at him archly, then moved away. "I would be indiscreet if I tried to answer that question."
"I approve of your loyalty to Margaret." Obviously Hannah didn't realize she had revealed more than she had intended. He chuckled indulgently. "Thank you, my dear, and I'm sorry I won't be here with you."
"Oh, I won't be lonely." She busied herself rearranging bric-a-brac on a wall shelf.
Benedict's genial air disappeared. "What do you mean?"
"I'm an adult. I have a right to receive callers!" Hannah stamped her foot.
"I don't deny you the right. However," he continued coldly, "let me remind you that you're under my protection."
"I can scarcely deny it."
"You know very little of the world, so I must decide for myself whether a man is a respectable suitor. Now, then, who is this gentleman?"
"Monsieur Fernand Daudet," she replied defiantly, placing her hands on her hips.
Benedict stared at her in dismay. "He's French!"
"Of course."
"And he's a merchant!"
"So are you."
"I'm a man of property who happens to deal in merchandise. I own four ships, two warehouses and several parcels of land. Our situations aren't comparable."
"I don't see why not," Hannah said stubbornly.
Thrusting her jaw forward, she shook a fist and said, "I'm not a child so I'll do as I please. It will give me great joy to receive Monsieur Daudet here this evening!"

Viet Nam Presse said the monk, whose name was not given, poured gasoline over his robes and set them afire.
It was the 11th suicide by fire in South Viet Nam this year. Seven were in protest against President Ngo Dinh Diem's treatment of Buddhist opponents.

Women of Russia Like the Others

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Company at the start of a special documentary program Tuesday night promised dramatically to introduce us to a new breed of woman — the emancipated, hard-working Soviet woman.

Then for the next hour, its films and the Russian women interviewed all tended to prove that modern Soviet women are pretty much like women all over the world, including the United States.

While "The Soviet Woman" did not prove the narrator's premise it was still a most interesting program. Instead of the usual concentration on Kremlin thunder and politics, it pulled together a portrait of family life and the workaday world of the average Russian.

Women far outnumber men, many of whom were killed in World War II, and thus comprise about one-half of the Soviet working force. They also are employed in areas where few American women have important footholds. They predominate, for instance, in the field of medicine.
The Soviet woman like many of her American sisters, finds it is necessary to hold down a job as both parent and employee in order to make ends meet. Because the U.S.S.R. needs womanpower the state has kindergartens, nurseries and boarding schools to make it easier for her.

"Big Mitch," written for NBC's "Richard Boone Show" by the late Clifford Odets, was announced as a comedy.
What it turned out to be Tuesday night, however, was a rather painful and not funny story about a noisy old fraud who talks big, won't work and is so selfish that he attempts to break up his daughter's September romance.

Perhaps in other hands, Big Mitch might have come off as a charming, lovable fellow. But Boone, whatever his talents, just isn't an actor with that kind of gentle approach, and comedy isn't exactly his dish either.

Fail to Ask Ex-Owner to Leave

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The new owners of what was James Weir's 1,000-acre farm at Dermott have not asked him to leave the property and so have no right to ask a court to order him off, Weir told the U.S. District Court at Little Rock Wednesday.

He was responding to an eviction request filed Dec. 2 by the new owners of the property, which was sold at auction April 17, 1962, for $60,000 to satisfy judgments against Weir for overplanting his crop allotments over a period of several years.

Weir remained on the property and filed motions seeking to have the judgments set aside.
On Nov. 14, U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley declared that Weir had lost title to the property and the new owners were entitled to possession.

Weir responded with a request for a homestead exemption on 160 acres of the property, but the new owners' Dec. 2 petition said he had not lived on the property until he built a small frame house there on or about Oct. 15 and so was not entitled to a homestead exemption.

The new owners also said Weir grew a 1963 crop on the property and asked the court to give them one-fourth of that crop for rent.

In his answer Wednesday, Weir said a state court should settle the rest question.

Bradley Press Downfall of Bobkittens

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Last night a surprise full court press and loss of players because of flu combined to lift the Bradley Junior over the Bobkittens 37-22 in the semifinals of the Bradley Tournament.

Bradley's full court press was, to put it mildly, devastating. It held the bewildered Bobkittens to a total of 0 field goals in the first half. They managed to sack only two free throws for 2 points, while Bradley racked up 21 marks.

The Kittens staged a try for a rally, and actually outpointed Bradley in the last half, but a 19 point deficit was a little too much to overcome, and they fell short at 37-22.

Richard Sallee was high-point man with 6. Fred O. Ellis and Larry Don Wright contributed the tallies in the first half.

Tonight the Bobcats face Fairview in the Magnolia Tournament, and the "B" Boys and Senior Girls stay at home to play host to Guernsey.

Giants, Bears Are Favored in Pro Play

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants and the Chicago Bears are the picks here in Sunday's "big ones" in the National Football League, setting up a Giants-Bears title playoffs at Wrigley Field, Dec. 29.

The NFL season ends Sunday with the conference championships hanging on the final games. Unless the Green Bay Packers stumble over San Francisco Saturday afternoon, the Bears will have to beat that tough Detroit club Sunday to be sure of winning the Western title.

Pittsburgh has a chance to win it all in its game with the Giants at Yankee Stadium. New York needs a victory or a tie to nail down their third straight Eastern crown. The Steelers would take the title on percentage points, .727 to .714 if they beat the Giants.

It is showdown weekend in the American Football League, too. The Boston Patriots can clinch the Eastern Division by winning at Kansas City Saturday. San Diego could wrap up the Western Division by whipping Houston if Oakland loses to Denver.

A perfect 7-0 weekend in the NFL and 3-1 in the AFL boosted the season record to 63-23-5 in the NFL and 25-17-3 in the AFL or a combined total of 91-40-8.

Here we go again—all games Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

NFL

Green Bay 35, San Francisco 14 (Saturday)—Packers must win to keep hopes alive. A victory and a loss for the Bears Sunday would give them the title. A tie and a loss for the Bears would set up a playoff. This one on national (CBS) television.

Chicago 20, Detroit 17—They will play this one close to the vest with a field goal the likely margin.

New York 31, Pittsburgh 24—Giants will have Y.A. Tittle this time and Alex Webster is ready. Steelers will roll on the ground with John Henry Johnson the key, but Y.A. will do more damage if Giant pass blockers can handle Pittsburgh's rush. The battle will be won in the line.

Cleveland 26, Washington 21—Jimmy Brown riddled Skins in opening game 37-14 victory. Rumors say Bill McPeak's job may be at stake.

St. Louis 31, Dallas 21—Charlie Johnson pitching over the running of the Cowboys but nothing like their 34-7 romp on opening day.

Baltimore 28, Los Angeles 14—Johnny Unitas on beam and Rams are vulnerable to air attack. Colts bitter about 17-16 loss Nov. 24 on a field goal.

Minnesota 24, Philadelphia 21—Ron VanderKelen gets a starting chance for Vikings for first time. Eagles should be ready for supreme effort to save jobs and Nick Skorich's scalp.

AFL

Buffalo 42, New York 14—Cookie Gilchrist after that 1,000-yard season again with 865 yards. Jets hurling with quarterback Dick Wood lost for season.

Boston 24, Kansas City 21 (Saturday)—Pats wrap up first title but Chiefs showed 1962 form in rolling over Denver last week. Kansas City could win it.

Oakland 28, Denver 10—Al Davis' Raiders are hottest team in the league with six straight, including two over San Diego.

San Diego 27, Houston 17—Oilers will be tougher at home than in 27-0 shutout at San Diego two weeks ago.

NFL Teams Not Short on Money

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 14 teams in the National Football League aren't about to run out of money. But at the rate they're signing the nation's top college talent, they had better put in a rush order for some more checks.

The NFL lured two more of its first-round draft selections into the fold Thursday—Texas Tech end Dave Parks signing with San Francisco and Pittsburgh halfback Paul Marth signing with the Steelers—and took a commanding lead over the AFL in the checkbook battle.

The NFL now has signed nine of 10 first-round picks among the players who have committed themselves to one league or the other. The AFL has lured one away. On the other hand, the AFL has contracts from three of its No. 1 picks—one contested—and has lost two to the NFL.

Besides Parks, the No. 1 selection in NFL draft, and Marth, the NFL line-up shows:

Washington has signed Arizona State back Charles Taylor, Minnesota has Minnesota tackle Carl Eller, Los Angeles has Utah State quarterback Bill Munson, Baltimore has Indiana back Mary Woodson, New York has Oklahoma back Joe Don Looney, Cleveland has Ohio State back Paul Warfield and Chicago has Tennessee tackle Dick Evey.

The NFL has lost only Southern California quarterback Pete Beathard, the No. 1 choice of the Detroit Lions. Beathard, also a first-round pick by Kansas City of the AFL, signed with the Chiefs.

Four NFL first-round picks are not yet committed—Nebraska guard Bob Brown and Nebraska tackle Lloyd Voss, selected by Philadelphia and Green Bay, respectively; Texas tackle Scott Appleton, taken by Dallas, and Louisville tackle Ken Kortas, drafted by St. Louis.

Besides Beathard, the AFL has signed New York's No. 1 pick, Ohio State back Matt Snell. Oakland also says it has signed its top choice, Arizona State back Tony Lorick, but the NFL's Baltimore entry also claims his signature. Lorick was the Colts second round pick.

Four other signings were announced Thursday—three in the NFL. The New York Giants grabbed their eighth-round pick, Cornell quarterback Gary Wood. And the Dallas Cowboys signed two Notre Dame players as free agents—Hanker John Simon and end Clay Stephens.

Kansas City of the AFL signed one of the futures picked last year, Pittsburgh tackle John Maczuzak.

Harmon Is Long Way From Gridiron

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Tom Harmon has been widely known for more than 20 years, first as an All-America football player and then as a radio and television sportscaster.

Now he is Tom Harmon Enterprises, Inc. "Harmon of Michigan," which was all you had to say to identify him in the years 1939-40-41, has reached another level of renown.

Next thing we know they'll be selling stock in "Old 99."

Ninety-eight—that was his jersey number and he wasn't at all old—earned All-America, the Heisman and Maxwell trophies and all-Big Ten Conference honors as one of the most exciting ball carriers in football.

Harmon was one of the first name athletes to carve out a successful career in sports broadcasting.

He began his airways career on a sort of frat house-to-house hookup on the campus when he was in school at Michigan.

Today Harmon is nationwide and comes in a package deal—a tidy little package with a $1-million price tag.

He conceived the package, hired his own crew, acquired his own equipment, went out and got his own sponsors and sold the works to the American Broadcasting Company.

Harmon answers to but one boss, himself. Well, possibly another, his picture-pretty wife, the former Elyse Knox of the movies.

Tommy came from a family of most modest means in Gary, Ind. He worked his way through college. His story is wonderfully pleasant.

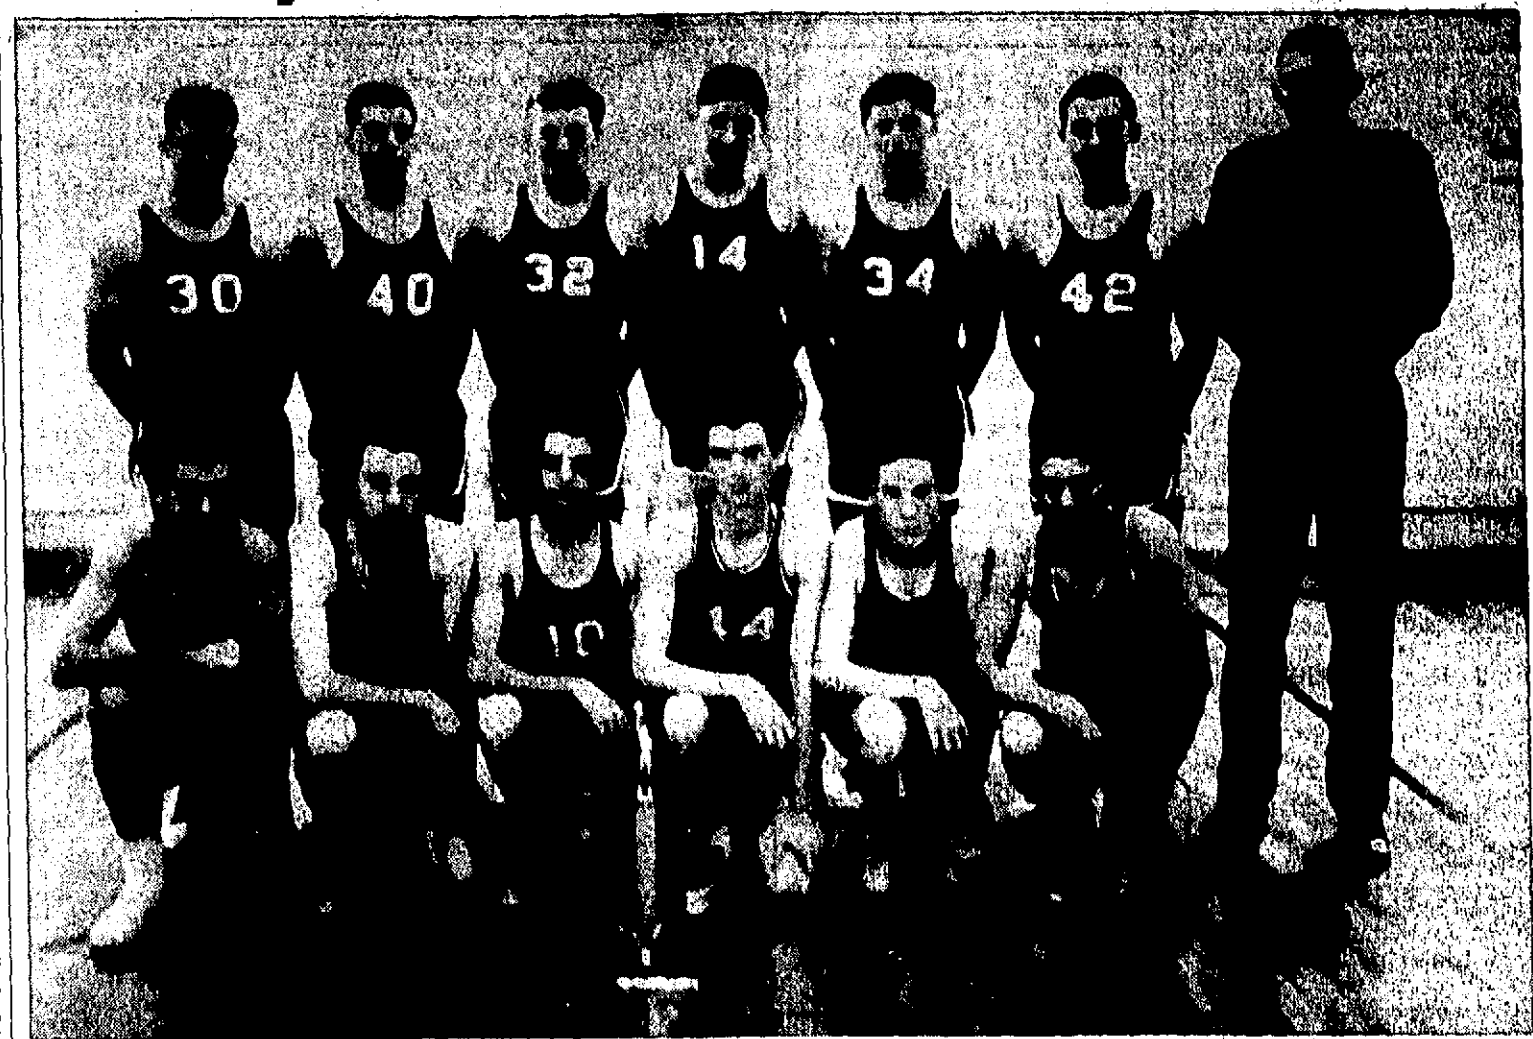

Harmon's feats on the gridiron were fascinating.

Against a powerful Iowa team on 1939, Michigan won, 28-7, and Harmon scored all 28 points.

Against California at Berkeley in 1940 Tommy took the opening kickoff and ran it back 98 yards and scored three touchdowns before Coach Fritz Crisler yanked him in the 41-0 rout.

Michigan lost only four games in Tommy's three years on the

Tech Defeats State Teachers

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)

Arkansas Tech rolled over State Teachers 84-78 Thursday night, coasting through on an early second half barrage to take the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball lead.

The Wonder Boys led throughout most of the first half, but Teachers tied the score late in the half, and Tech managed only a 44-43 halftime lead.

But Bill Boley, who scored 32 points, Chester Barner and Larry LaFavers all hit baskets early in the second half to give Tech a nine-point lead which the Bears could never overcome.

Tom Davis canned 32 points for Teachers.

The victory kept Tech's record clean after four AIC games, and dropped Teachers to 3-1 in conference play.

Green Bay Trying to Keep Alive

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Green Bay's Packers strive to keep alive their hopes for a fourth straight Western Conference title in the National Football League Saturday in meeting the last-place San Francisco 49ers.

Three - touchdown favorites, the Packers can't take the upstart 49ers lightly even though San Francisco has won but two games in this worst season for the entry in the NFL.

"This is the must game for us," declared Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi, whose club has a record of 10 victories, 2 losses and 1 tie. Chicago with 10-1-2

Spring Hill Boys Beat Willisville

Spring Hill Senior boys racked Willisville 85 to 75 at Willisville Tuesday night but two other County teams lost. Gary Kidd had a fabulous 46 points for points for Spring and Dennis Polk made 24. Willisville's Almond did some fair shooting too, making 39 and Pennington 17.

Willisville Junior girls downed Spring Hill 35 to 33 with Rhea making 23. Betty McNeil had 19 and Bonnie Kidd 13 for Spring Hill.

Spring Hill Senior girls took a 54 to 31 licking. Evans had 19 for Willisville. Jackie Kidd had 12 and Lilla Powell 11 for Spring Hill.

Triple A Loop Enlarges and Splits Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The long-expected split in Arkansas' highest schoolboy athletic classification ceased to be just imagination Wednesday.

The Big Ten Conference voted to split into two six-team divisions at a meeting in Little Rock, effective for the 1965-66 seasons.

Region 2A's Fayetteville and Springdale, with fast-swelling enrollments, will enter the Class AAA league.

Eastern division members will be Pine Bluff, Jonesboro, Blytheville, Little Rock Central, Little Rock Hall and North Little Rock.

Western division members will be Fayetteville, Texarkana, Fort Smith, El Dorado, Springdale and Hot Springs.

No vote was taken on whether the division champions would meet in a playoff. The league also did not answer the question of how representatives to the state basketball tournament would be determined, or how the Class AAA state track championship would be settled.

Only Pine Bluff voted against the east-west split, proposed by Hot Springs. Fort Smith did not vote because when it came Fort Smith's turn to vote, the east-west split had been assured of passage. Jonesboro was not represented at the meeting, but sent word that it favored a split.

A proposal which would have created a north-south split, with Central, Hall, Pine Bluff and North Little Rock being divided into separate divisions, was voted down.

Another proposal which would have put the large schools in one league and the small schools in another also was beaten.

No mechanics were worked out for admitting new members, although the league was told it could place new members in one half or the other.

The actual voting was done by record can win the title with a victory over Detroit on Sunday.

San Francisco handed Chicago its only defeat and Coach Jack Christiansen says, "The Packers are definitely a better, a more solid team than the Bears. That goes both for offense and defense."

A crowd of about 35,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff with a national television audience also looking in.

San Francisco can't even win its way out of the Western cellar with a victory yet the 49ers could ruin the remaining hopes of Green Bay. The Packers must win to stay in contention.

A Green Bay victory coupled with a Chicago loss would give the Packers their fourth title. A Green Bay tie coupled with a Chicago loss would force a divisional playoff. A Chicago victory or a Green Bay loss would give the title to the Bears.

Toledo Knocks NYU Out of Top Rating

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was prophetic. Just before second-ranked New York University took the court at Madison Square Garden for a game with unranked Toledo Thursday night, the NYU cheerleaders raced on the court toting a huge banner.

"We're No. 1," the flag boasted, erroneously proclaimed.

Right in front of the cheering section one of the cheerleaders got is feet tangled in the banner and took a tumble.

A few minutes later, so did NYU.

The Violets were out-rebounded, but maneuvered and thoroughly played off the court by the fired-up Rockets, 87-74. Top-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other ranked team in action Thursday, had to work hard for a 105-102 decision over Western Michigan.

"I've been saying we've got a helluva team," jubilant coach Eddie Melvin of the Rockets, now 5-0 for the season, said. "Now maybe they'll believe me."

"How did I feel going against the No. 2 team? Hah, we should be No. 1 or 2. I've been saying we should be one of the top ten teams. This proves it."

They barged out to a quick 14-lead, using a spread-out, wide-open offense, and simply took it from there. They moved calmly, deliberately on offense and used a harassing, shifting man-to-man defense that forced the frustrated Violets into mistakes.

It was NYU's first loss in four games.

And while the Violets were willing, the top-ranked Ramblers from Chicago Loyola had a severe scare thrown their way by Western Michigan before escaping with their fourth straight victory.

Little Manny Newsome, a 5-foot-10 sparkplug was the chief tormentor of the defending national champions, throwing in 44 points. Ron Miller led the winners with 33 points.

On-rushing but unranked Oklahoma State remained unbeaten with a 71-64 triumph over Brigham Young.

In some of the other major ones, Rhode Island handled Brown 77-62. Iowa edged Southern Methodist 73-70. Oklahoma City bombed San Francisco 97-84. Providence whipped St. Louis 72-61. Notre Dame blasted Valparaiso 107-60. Texas Christian won from Florida State 66-60. Memphis State romped over Marquette 88-74. Miami downed St. Mary's, Calif., 101-86. Villanova just got by Buffalo 58-56. Massachusetts walloped Boston College 93-74 and New Mexico edged Denver 49-43.

Y. A. Tittle

Pro Player of the Year

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle came home from work a little late—he is busy getting ready for the showdown game Sunday with the Pittsburgh Steelers—so his wife was the first to hear the news.

"That's just wonderful," Minnette Tittle said. "Y.A. will be so pleased. And imagine beating out Jimmy Brown. He's great."

The news was that Y.A. Tittle, the old Bald Eagle of the New York Giants, has been named the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Tittle got 33 of the 40 votes cast and Brown, the fullback of the Cleveland Browns, the other seven.

"That's tremendous," said Tittle, when he got home from practice and got the word. "I'm proud and pleased. I hope I prove worthy, especially in Sunday's game. That's the big one."

The Giants and the Steelers will play winner-take-all for the Eastern Division title.

Tittle has been just about all the offense for the Giants, and usually he has been enough. The Giants lead the league in scoring by a wide margin.

Tittle as thrown 33 touchdowns passes this year, equaling his own league record set last year. He has 204 completions in 341 attempts for a 59.8 percentage and 2,837 yards.

The star quarterback, who is 37 and looks maybe five years older than that with his weather-beaten face and bald head, also has established two NFL career records with 199 touchdowns and 1,954 passes.

Tittle said his selection, as down passes and 1,954 passes, school superintendents, although school principals were permitted to enter into the discussion and offer proposals.

Last night in Jones Field House the Perry Truck Stop Independents blasted Dean's Truck Stop team 88 to 52. It was the first game of the season for both teams.

"This is one we've got to win," says Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi.

But even a victory could leave the Packers losers less than 24 hours later.

That's the situation the defending National Football League champions face as they get set to take on the lowly 49ers at San Francisco Saturday in a game that will be nationally televised.

CBS will handle the telecast, starting at 5 p.m., EST.

The Packers, 10-2-1, need a victory to stay alive in the battle for the Western Conference championship, at least until Sunday, when first-place Chicago takes on Detroit. The Bears are 10-1-2, and can wrap up the title with a tie or victory—no matter how the Packers make out.

The story is much the same elsewhere. By nightfall Sunday, all the titles in the NFL and American Football League could be decided.

The big one on the AFL program also is a Saturday afternoon game with Eastern Division-leading Boston invading Kansas City. The Patriots can clinch with either a tie or victory. Buffalo is at New York for another Saturday game.

The Sunday NFL program has two key clashes, the Bears-Lions game and the showdown struggle at New York between the Pittsburgh Steelers and Giants for the Eastern Conference crown.

No Date Set for Venacular Mass

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — No date has been set for use of vernacular in parts of the Mass in Arkansas. Most Rev. Albert L. Fletcher, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Little Rock, announced on his return from the Ecumenical Council in Rome Saturday.

The Council authorized use of native languages in the first major liturgical reform in the church's 1,700 years of existence.

Fletcher said the most important achievement to date of the Ecumenical Council is that it has "attracted the attention of the world to efforts the church is making not only to be understood but to understand."

The old fireplace with its "dog-irons" began to fade out of the picture in Arkansas as early as 1841, when coal was produced in Johnson County.

Peace Corps to Be Expanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today and sent to the White House a bill authorizing a major expansion of the Peace Corps.

The action was taken by voice vote, and without debate, on a routine call of the calendar of unopposed measures.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of $102 million for the corps for the current fiscal year.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver testified last week that plans call for having some 11,300 volunteers in service by the end of next August.

Congress appropriated $59 million for the corps last year. Funds for the corps will be included in a catch-all appropriation bill, which also will provide appropriations for the foreign aid program.

The Peace Corps is operating in 46 countries and has turned down or postponed requests from about 30 other nations, Shriver said at the time.

Public More Interested in Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising prices and heavy trading in recent days and weeks have increased public interest in the stock market. More persons are getting into it, either by actually buying shares, or vicariously by talking about the goings on.

Yet a lot of the terms used are vague to many a market watcher. Here are simplified explanations of a few of the common ones you run into most.

Blue chip—Common stock in nationally known company with good long-term dividend record and strong investment qualities.

Penny stock—Share selling for less than $1.

Cats & dogs—Low-priced, highly speculative issues.

Convertible—Preferred share, bond or debenture that can be turned in for common stock of the company.

Dollar averaging—Investing fixed sums at regular intervals in a given stock regardless of price changes.

Growth stock—Share in a company that's likely to make above average gains in earnings and net worth over a long period.

Margin account—The account of a trader who operates partly on money borrowed from his broker, currently set legally as no more than 30 per cent of price of the stock.

Margin call—Demand on trader to put up more cash or securities with the broker when skidding prices mean that customer's equity in stock falls below or dangerously near the legal minimum or below standard set by the stock exchange or by the brokerage firm.

Round lot—Unit of trading on the exchanges, which is usually 100 shares, except for a few high priced or inactive issues.

Odd lot—Amount of stock bought or sold in less than the established round lot unit of 100 shares for most issues. Odd lot trading is popularly supposed to be the badge of the small investor.

Short sale—Borrowing stock to sell at the market price in expectation of buying back at lower price later for a profit. If price goes up, stock still must be bought some time for replacement, at a loss to the trader.

Over the counter — Market maintained by security dealers for stocks usually unlisted on the exchanges.
